

Title: Home Reading Program

Target: Primary teachers / parents

(Try to establish the habit of English reading with your children)

Abstract of the Video:

Teachers of Shek Wu Hui Public School deemed that reading is beneficial to children. However, parents may not know how to choose suitable readers for children and thus their school brought a series of readers to let parents read with children and enhance their interests. Parents can sign on a booklist, which targets 30-40 readers a year with around a book per week, after they complete reading a book with children. Besides, in order to help the busy parents or those without confidence in English, the school appointed P4-6 students as English Ambassadors to listen and help junior primary students to read aloud the readers just as their parents at home.

Advice for the Post-video Activities:

Parents may make reference to the following recommended websites to search for some free sounded e-readers to read together with your children frequently to establish English reading habits:

1. Inkless Tales

2. Lil' Fingers Storybooks
